CHAIRMAN DONLIN OF COUNTY COMMITTEE APPOINTS CHAIRMEN

WILL PUT "PEP" IN DRIVE

Victory Ship Begins Voyage From Frisco to New York—To Record Progress of Campaign.

C. W. Donlin, chairman of the Victory Loan committee for Nodawa ycounty, announced today his appointments of chairmen of the various township sub-districts as follows: L. A. Nigh, Independence township, Parnell; S. S. Casteel, Jackson township, Ravenwood; C. A. Teson, Jefferson township, Clyde.

Mr. Donlin announced that the men who have been named as chairmen of the districts will have complete charge of the drive in their respective territories, and that all reports of the progress of the drive will be returned to the readquarters of the Loan committee in the Commercial Club rooms, this city.

Chairman Donlin completed his tour of the sub-county districts this morning and arrived in Maryville this afternoon to make final arrangements for the handling of the work from this point. Although he was unable to announce the progress of the drive yesterday, the first day of the campaign, he indicated that every effort is being made to put plenty of "pep" in the drive and place Nodaway county on the honor list early in the campaign.

The United States steamship Marblehead, one of the three destroyers which will tell the story of the Victory Liberty Loan to the entire country by a voyage from San Francisco to New York, pulled out of the Golden Gate yesterday afternoon to begin a fourteen-and-one-half-billion-dollar journey. The speed of her engines will be determined by the nation's daily subscription to the Victory loan. For every $857,142 subscribed the Victory ship will travel one mile. The entire cruising distance from San Francisco to New York, the "Harbor of Victory" is 5,250 miles. If the nation keeps pace with the required daily subscription, the Victory ship will make an average of 262½ miles per day, representing the required daily subscriptions of $225,000,000.

President's Message a la Airplane.

From an airplane, flying 2,600 feet overhead an army officer today read President Wilson's Victory Liberty loan message to a throng of 15,000 persons, assembled at the south steps of the treasury by the use of the wireless telephone and a newly invented sound amplifier.

A few minutes later Admiral Sims from the platform addressed the same audience through the amplifier. He praised the work of the American army in France, saying the navy was really an auxiliary of the army. To the prolonged applause, Admiral Sims responded by explaining that he interpreted the cheering as an expression of gratitude for the navy and not for individuals connected with it. Billie Burke, the actress, sold bonds to the audience after the address of Admiral Sims, who bought the first bond and also spoke at other meetings today.

The throng of government employees dismissed for the capital's opening demonst[illegible] cheered the President's [illegible]oken through the air and en[illegible] distinctly to them by Lieut. H. E. Metcalf, a radio officer in the airplane. They craned their necks to see the plane soaring far above bearing the officer whose words came to them so distinctly.

"Hello, Hello, Treasury," cried the aviator. "I am now 2,600 feet over you in plane 38,070 for Bolling Field." He then read the message and concluding by bidding good-bye to the crowd.

$100 DAMAGE DONE BY FIRE

Blaze Discovered About 8 o'Clock This Morning at Romasser Residence.

Damage estimated at about $100 was done by a small fire about 8 o'clock this morning at the home of Deputy Sheriff Romasser, 547 Third street. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

According to Mr. Romasser, he had been taking some ashes from the kitchen range, a short time before the fire was discovered, and the belief is that a spark ignited the woodwork near the floor.

When the fire wagon arrived on the scene the flame had ascended almost to the roof of the house, but the use of chemicals the blaze was easily extinguished.

ROBERT BURRIS AT MONTIGNY.

Has Recently Been Transferred from Coblenz, Germany,

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burris have received the following letter from their son who is with the supply train corps of the American army and has recently been moved from Coblenz, Germany, to Montigny, France.

He says in part:

Montigny, France, March 30.

"I have been very near drowned since being back here for it rains or su[illegible] every day. I can't see that we [illegible] getting very close to home by com[illegible] here, and sure do wish they had left us where we were for we had a decent place to stay and no mud to wade in. We are all attached to the 8th corps Headquarters and I am now driving a Ford for our Lieutenant and am having it very soft for once. The little old town we are in was built before America was discovered and looks as though a bird lighting on one of the houses would knock them down. We sleep in the up stairs rooms of the houses and it sure is hard to decide whether it is a hay loft or a bedroom, for they use one room on the first floor for the kitchen, bed room and sitting room and one for whatever live stock they possess, and a very pleasant bedroom it makes for us just above. Since we left Coblenz have had a new commanding officer about every two days. I have run out of news as this is a regular desert we are living in now. Am well and feeling fine and hope you are all the same. Right now it is snowing as hard as any storm I have seen over here yet.

Lovingly,

ROBERT.

MILITARY FLYING FEATURE

Exhibition Flights by Lieut. M. H. Miller to Be Eevent at Chautauqua Here Aug. 4-10.

Announcement has een made by the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua System that exhibitions of military flying will be among the features of this summer's chautauqua program to be held in Maryville August 4 to 10.

Lieut. Milo H. Miller, formerly an instructor in aviation at Kelly Field, Texas, will have charge of the flights. Lieut. Miller has secured two machines of the battle plane type. One of these will be kept at a central point in the chautauqua territory and will be used in case anything should happen to the first machine. Expert mechanicians will be on hand at all times to forestall engine trouble and anything else which might interfere with successful flying.

The spectacular value of such an exhibition at once presents itself Aeroplane day, with the big band and the address by Major Bridgman of the UnitedStates aviation service, should be the greatest crowd-getting day in the history of chautauqua. But the educational value of the aeroplane's visit must not be overlooked.

The aeroplane is destined to play a great part in the commercial feature of the world. To most of us the chautauqua will offer the first opportunity to see one of these remarkable machines in action and to examine it on the grounds.

After the plane has landed it will be taen inside the chautauqua fence where Lieut. Miller will explain the various sections and their respective functions. He will also answer any questions regarding aviation.

WILSON IS DISAPPOINTED

President May Issue Statement Soon Explaining America's Stand—Japanese Claims Before "Big 4."

Paris April 22.—A complete deadlock has been reached in the discussions over the rival territorial claims of Italy and Jugo-Slavia on the Adriatic. The postponement of the opening of the Italian parliament until early next month will enable Orlando and Sonnino to stay in Paris longer than it was originally thought possible, and this will be of material assistance. Officials close to President Wilson stated that he is disappointed over the trend of the conference affairs and may issue a public statement explaining the American position on the new obstacles which are holding up the progress. The "Big Four' met today to hear the Japanese claims.

Washington, April 22.—President Wilson will take no action tending to violate or endanger the covenant of the League of Nations. This assurance reached the white houses today, and it is intended to make plain the President's attitude on all matters still remaining to be cleared up. It is also accepted as a denial of the reports that America, Great Britain and France are to enter a secret alliance. White House officials today did not attempt to minimize the gravity of the situation which has arisen over the claims of both the Italians and Jugo-Slavs for the Fiume. The official text of the revised covenant of the League of Nations was cabled to the state department this afternoon.

It will probably be made public by he officials of state before night.

"WE DIDN'T HOLLER"

MARYILLLE SOLDIER GIVES VIVID DESCRIPTION OF BATTLES

IN BIG ARGONNE FIGHT

Ray O'Grady Says Gov. Allen is Making Too Big a Noise—Conditions Unavoidable

Ray O'Grady, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Grady, who is with the occupation army in Germany, writes a very interesting letter to his parents which follows:

Plaidt, Germany, March 23,1919.

Dear Sister: Received your letter of Feb. 26 just today. Have not written for some time as I've been pretty busy

We are supposed to have two motorcycles, but only have one now, and the Colonel's car has been in the shop, so they sure have had me going some.

We are having the finest spring weather you ever saw and I'm feeling fine and every one is getting crazy about base ball. We have a nice athletic field here and lots of sports. You asked what I do with my machine—Well, I haul officers across to the battalion and division hdq'ts and also have lots of messages and reports to take to brigade and division hdq'ts. I had to make a run to Coblenz Saturday for the "Y."

The 5th brigade headquarters are located in a grand old castle just across from Namedy. I go there most every day I have seen head-armor there that was worn in wars hundreds of years ago. Am sending you a clipping out of the Paris edition of the New York Herald about the death of Prince Kari. It says he died in Berlin but he didn't. He is the prince that lived in this old castle. He had a snow-white driving team and they got black covers from Berlin that covered them every bit except their eyes, and used them for the hearse team.

I saw in the paper sime time ago where Gov. Allen was going to make such big investigations about the heavy causualty list of the 35th division. Well, there were only 15th in the number of casualties. We were the 3rd. The 1st and 28th divisions had more than we did. We were on three fronts in the 3rd army corps of the 3rd army and the 3rd regular division to come across, also third in the distance we pushed the Boche back, and first in the number of machine guns captured.

We were in that battle of the Argonne that Allen is making so much noise about. This regiment went in with about 3,600 men and came out with 1,300 and nobody made a kick for us. When that drive started they had to go across what had been "no man's land" for four years and every inch of it had been turned by shell fire and we had just had about a month of rain and it was almost impossible to lead a horse across it until the engineers built some roads, so of course the artillery was slow moving up. We were up there thirty days and lots of times without artillery support, but you don't hear any of this bunch holler. Why, a bunch of boy scouts could advance if they had enough artillery behind them. My company commander and our 1st Batt. Major were killed and those two and the Colonel we had there were the bravest men I ever saw under shell fire. A shell cut a tree off and it fell on the Colonel and hurt his back. He is in the U. S. now. He sure was the whitest man in the army. Col. Dorey and Leo Roney were in the gamest company in the regiment. They sure pulled off some keen raids on Fritz. I remember one morning in the Argonne they woke Fritz up just at daybreak without any artillery support, captured a woods and sent back thirty prisoners. I think that was the morning Leo got hit. We made a daylight relief up there after nineteen hours forced march.

Well, it's bed time so I must quit. When I get home I'll give you hours of this dope.. Goodnight for now.

Your Brother,
RAY O'GRADY,

Cash vs. Credit

The cash customer has a right to expect more for each dollar than the charge customer gets.

The reasons are obvious.

The cash customer gets for each dollar merchandise plus SMALLEST DISTRIBUTING EXPENSE because of inexpensive service.

The charge customer get the most expensive service and is entitled to less merchandise for each dollar.

Yet in stores where the antiquated "Charge Account" method is still in use the cash customer pays just as much for merchandise as the charge customer does.

In this store we minimize service and give maximum value IN MERCHANDISE.

Expensive systems, costly credit expenses and losses and bookkeeping costs are not a part of the Haines scheme of value-giving.

We do not give credit to anyone, neither to the rich nor the poor.

We do exchange with rich and poor alike our merchandise for the money, on the basis of a full dollar's worth for each cash dollar spent.

When you buy on credit, you in fact borrow the merchandise and agree to pay for it at a later date in cash.

The merchant who loans it to you really becomes your banker.

Do you suppose he loans without interest?

THE INTEREST IS INCLUDED in the margin of profit he tacks on the wholesale price and in addition he must tack on the costs of bookkeeping and credit losses and the other expenses which go with the "charge account method."

And the cash customer pays the high prices made necessary by the expense of catering to the charge customer.

This store sells for cash—so sells for less.

There are no costly distributing and selling methods here.

We exchange our merchandise for your dollars on the basis of the low price to which you are entitled when you pay cash.

The Policy of The Standard Oil Company

(Indiana)

IT is the policy of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana to conduct its business in fairness to all: to the consumer, to the employe, to the stockholder and to the competitor.

To deal fairly with the consumer by manufacturing the best petroleum products, distributing them widely and selling them at lowest prices.

To deal fairly with the employe by giving him steady work, compensating him liberally, and as far as possible, insuring him against unemployment.

To deal fairly with the competitor by standing squarely on the broad, general principle of live and let live—by maintaining open prices and never deviating from them.

The Standard Oil Company knows that, by reason of its refining and distribution facilities, and the service it renders to customers, it has no need to disorganize the market to get its fair share of the business. That is all it expects and wants.

It is because of adherence to these general policies that the Company has prospered, and the Directors have been able to give a creditable accounting of their trusteeship to the 4623 stockholders who have their money invested in the Company.

Have You Any Tires Like This?

If your tires are worn like the one shown here, you still have about one-half the value of a new tire in this old carcass.

You have only used the tread on this tire. The rims, side walls and fabric are still perfectly good and with proper rebuilding your tire can be made as good as new.

In rebuilding we replace all worn plys of fabric and add one ply more than was in the tire when new—then after the carcass is completely rebuilt we apply the new tread.

And rebuilding costs you only about one-half as much as a new tire.

We guarantee 3000 miles of service from our rebuilt tires, Standard Guarantee.

CHAIRMAN DONLIN OF COUNTY COMMITTEE APPOINTS CHAIRMEN

WILL PUT "PEP" IN DRIVE

Victory Ship Begins Voyage From Frisco to New York—To Record Progress of Campaign.

C. W. Donlin, chairman of the Victory Loan committee for Nodawa ycounty, announced today his appointments of chairmen of the various township sub-districts as follows: L. A. Nigh, Independence township, Parnell; S. S. Casteel, Jackson township, Ravenwood; C. A. Teson, Jefferson township, Clyde.

Mr. Donlin announced that the men who have been named as chairmen of the districts will have complete charge of the drive in their respective territories, and that all reports of the progress of the drive will be returned to the readquarters of the Loan committee in the Commercial Club rooms, this city.

Chairman Donlin completed his tour of the sub-county districts this morning and arrived in Maryville this afternoon to make final arrangements for the handling of the work from this point. Although he was unable to announce the progress of the drive yesterday, the first day of the campaign, he indicated that every effort is being made to put plenty of "pep" in the drive and place Nodaway county on the honor list early in the campaign.

The United States steamship Marblehead, one of the three destroyers which will tell the story of the Victory Liberty Loan to the entire country by a voyage from San Francisco to New York, pulled out of the Golden Gate yesterday afternoon to begin a fourteen-and-one-half-billion-dollar journey. The speed of her engines will be determined by the nation's daily subscription to the Victory loan. For every $857,142 subscribed the Victory ship will travel one mile. The entire cruising distance from San Francisco to New York, the "Harbor of Victory" is 5,250 miles. If the nation keeps pace with the required daily subscription, the Victory ship will make an average of 262½ miles per day, representing the required daily subscriptions of $225,000,000.

President's Message a la Airplane.

From an airplane, flying 2,600 feet overhead an army officer today read President Wilson's Victory Liberty loan message to a throng of 15,000 persons, assembled at the south steps of the treasury by the use of the wireless telephone and a newly invented sound amplifier.

A few minutes later Admiral Sims from the platform addressed the same audience through the amplifier. He praised the work of the American army in France, saying the navy was really an auxiliary of the army. To the prolonged applause, Admiral Sims responded by explaining that he interpreted the cheering as an expression of gratitude for the navy and not for individuals connected with it. Billie Burke, the actress, sold bonds to the audience after the address of Admiral Sims, who bought the first bond and also spoke at other meetings today.

The throng of government employees dismissed for the capital's opening demonst... cheered the President's ... ken through the air and en... distinctly to them by Lieut. H. L. Aetcalf, a radio officer in the airplane. They craned their necks to see the plane soaring far above bearing the officer whose words came to them so distinctly.

"Hello, Hello, Treasury," cried the aviator. "I am now 2,600 feet over you in plane 38,070 for Bolling Field." He then read the message and concluding by bidding good-bye to the crowd.

$100 DAMAGE DONE BY FIRE

Blaze Discovered About 8 o'Clock This Morning at Romasser Residence.

Damage estimated at about $100 was done by a small fire about 8 o'clock this morning at the home of Deputy Sheriff Romasser, 547 Third street. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

According to Mr. Romasser, he had been taking some ashes from the kitchen range, a short time before the fire was discovered, and the belief is that a spark ignited the woodwork near the floor.

When the fire wagon arrived on the scene the flame had ascended almost to the roof of the house, but the use of chemicals the blaze was easily extinguished.

ROBERT BURRIS AT MONTIGNY.

Has Recently Been Transferred from Coblenz, Germany,

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Burris have received the following letter from their son who is with the supply train corps of the American army and has recently been moved from Coblenz, Germany, to Montigny, France.

He says in part:

Montigny, France, March 30.

"I have been very near drowned since being back here for it rains or sn... every day. I can't see that we ... getting very close to home by com... here, and sure do wish they had left us where we were for we had a decent place to stay and no mud to wade in. We are all attached to the 8th corps Headquarters and I am now driving a Ford for our Lieutenant and am having it very soft for once. The little old town we are in was built before America was discovered and looks as though a bird lighting on one of the houses would knock them down. We sleep in the up stairs rooms of the houses and it sure is hard to decide whether it is a hay loft or a bedroom, for they use one room on the first floor for the kitchen, bed room and sitting room and one for whatever live stock they possess, and a very pleasant bedroom it makes for us just above. Since we left Coblenz have had a new commanding officer about every two days. I have run out of news as this is a regular desert we are living in now. Am well and feeling fine and hope you are all the same. Right now it is snowing as hard as any storm I have seen over here yet.

Lovingly,

ROBERT.

MILITARY FLYING FEATURE

Exhibition Flights by Lieut. M. H. Miller to Be Eevent at Chautauqua Here Aug. 4-10.

Announcement has een made by the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua System that exhibitions of military flying will be among the features of this summer's chautauqua program to be held in Maryville August 4 to 10.

Lieut. Milo H. Miller, formerly an instructor in aviation at Kelly Field, Texas, will have charge of the flights. Lieut. Miller has secured two machines of the battle plane type. One of these will be kept at a central point in the chautauqua territory and will be used in case anything should happen to the first machine. Expert mechanicians will be on hand at all times to forestall engine trouble and anything else which might interfere with successful flying.

The spectacular value of such an exhibition at once presents itself Aeroplane day, with the big band and the address by Major Bridgman of the UnitedStates aviation service, should be the greatest crowd-getting day in the history of chautauqua. But the educational value of the aeroplane's visit must not be overlooked.

The aeroplane is destined to play a great part in the commercial feature of the world. To most of us the chautauqua will offer the first opportunity to see one of these remarkable machines in action and to examine it on the grounds.

After the plane has landed it will be taen inside the chautauqua fence where Lieut. Miller will explain the various sections and their respective functions. He will also answer any questions regarding aviation.

DEADLOCK IN MEET

ITALY AND JUGO-SLAVIA UNABLE TO REACH AGREEMENT

WILSON IS DISAPPOINTED

President May Issue Statement Soon Explaining America's Stand—Japanese Claims Before "Big 4."

Paris April 22.—A complete deadlock has been reached in the discussions over the rival territorial claims of Italy and Jugo-Slavia on the Adriatic. The postponement of the opening of the Italian parliament until early next month will enable Orlando and Sonnino to stay in Paris longer than it was originally thought possible, and this will be of material assistance. Officials close to President Wilson stated that he is disappointed over the trend of the conference affairs and may issue a public statement explaining the American position on the new obstacles which are holding up the progress. The "Big Four' met today to hear the Japanese claims.

Washington, April 22.—President Wilson will take no action tending to violate or endanger the covenant of the League of Nations. This assurance reached the white houses today, and it is intended to make plain the President's attitude on all matters still remaining to be cleared up. It is also accepted as a denial of the reports that America, Great Britain and France are to enter a secret alliance. White House officials today did not attempt to minimize the gravity of the situation which has arisen over the claims of both the Italians and Jugo-Slavs for the Fiume. The official text of the revised covenant of the League of Nations was cabled to the state department this afternoon.

It will probably be made public by he officials of state before night.

Ray O'Grady Says Gov. Allen is Making Too Big a Noise—Conditions Unavoidable

Ray O'Grady, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Grady, who is with the occupation army in Germany, writes a very interesting letter to his parents which follows:

Plaidt, Germany, March 23,1919.

Dear Sister: Received your letter of Feb. 26 just today. Have not written for some time as I've been pretty busy.

We are supposed to have two motorcycles, but only have one now, and the Colonel's car has been in the shop, so they sure have had me going some.

We are having the finest spring weather you ever saw and I'm feeling fine and every one is getting crazy about base ball. We have a nice athletic field here and lots of sports. You asked what I do with my machine—Well, I haul officers across to the battalion and division hdq'ts and also have lots of messages and reports to take to brigade and division hdq'ts. I had to make a run to Coblenz Saturday for the "Y."

The 5th brigade headquarters are located in a grand old castle just across from Namedy. I go there most every day. I have seen head-armor there that was worn in wars hundreds of years ago. Am sending you a clipping out of the Paris edition of the New York Herald about the death of Prince Kari. It says he died in Berlin but he didn't. He is the prince that lived in this old castle. He had a snow-white driving team and they got black covers from Berlin that covered them every bit except their eyes, and used them for the hearse team.

I saw in the paper sime time ago where Gov. Allen was going to make such big investigations about the heavy causualty list of the 35th division. Well, there were only 15th in the number of casualties. We were the 3rd. The 1st and 28th divisions had more than we did. We were on three fronts in the 3rd army corps of the 3rd army and the 3rd regular division to come across, also third in the distance we pushed the Boche back, and first in the number of machine guns captured.

We were in that battle of the Argonne that Allen is making so much noise about. This regiment went in with about 3,600 men and came out with 1,300 and nobody made a kick for us. When that drive started they had to go across what had been "no man's land" for four years and every inch of it had been turned by shell fire and we had just had about a month of rain and it was almost impossible to lead a horse across it until the engineers built some roads, so of course the artillery was slow moving up. We were up there thirty days and lots of times without artillery support, but you don't hear any of this bunch holler. Why, a bunch of boy scouts could advance if they had enough artillery behind them. My company commander and our 1st Batt. Major were killed and those two and the Colonel we had there were the bravest men I ever saw under shell fire. A shell cut a tree off and it fell on the Colonel and hurt his back. He is in the U. S. now. He sure was the whitest man in the army. Col. Dorey and Leo Roney were in the gamest company in the regiment. They sure pulled off some keen raids on Fritz. I remember one morning in the Argonne they woke Fritz up just at daybreak without any artillery support, captured a woods and sent back thirty prisoners. I think that was the morning Leo got hit. We made a daylight relief up there after nineteen hours forced march.

Well, it's bed time so I must quit. When I get home I'll give you hours of this dope.. Goodnight for now.

Your Brother,
RAY O'GRADY,
Hdq. Co., 4th Inf. 3rd Div.

Depend on our Want Ad. Column.

Cash vs. Credit

The cash customer has a right to expect more for each dollar than the charge customer gets.

The reasons are obvious.

The cash customer gets for each dollar merchandise plus SMALLEST DISTRIBUTING EXPENSE because of inexpensive service.

The charge customer get the most expensive service and is entitled to less merchandise for each dollar.

Yet in stores where the antiquated "Charge Account" method is still in use the cash customer pays just as much for merchandise as the charge customer does.

In this store we minimize service and give maximum value IN MERCHANDISE.

Expensive systems, costly credit expenses and losses and bookkeeping costs are not a part of the Haines scheme of value-giving.

We do not give credit to anyone, neither to the rich nor the poor.

We do exchange with rich and poor alike our merchandise for the money, on the basis of a full dollar's worth for each cash dollar spent.

When you buy on credit, you in fact borrow the merchandise and agree to pay for it at a later date in cash.

The merchant who loans it to you really becomes your banker.

Do you suppose he loans without interest?

THE INTEREST IS INCLUDED in the margin of profit he tacks on the wholesale price and in addition he must tack on the costs of bookkeeping and credit losses and the other expenses which go with the "charge account method."

And the cash customer pays the high prices made necessary by the expense of catering to the charge customer.

This store sells for cash—so sells for less.

There are no costly distributing and selling methods here.

We exchange our merchandise for your dollars on the basis of the low price to which you are entitled when you pay cash.

A Woman's World, Too.

The National Federation of Business Women meets in St. Louis in July. There are now eleven million women in industry in the United States. Mrs. F. S. Duyea of New York is the general organizer. During a recent visit in Kansas City, in one of her addresses she said:

"This is a man's world, of course, but it is a woman's world, too. It is big enough for both. Men already have discovered and generously acknowledged that the business world is infinitely better with women in it. Women are silent on the subject, but all know manufactures, trades and professions have advaneed rapidly since our eleven million women got their first jobs."

The Policy of The Standard Oil Company

(Indiana)

IT is the policy of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana to conduct its business in fairness to all: to the consumer, to the employe, to the stockholder and to the competitor.

To deal fairly with the consumer by manufacturing the best petroleum products, distributing them widely and selling them at lowest prices.

To deal fairly with the employe by giving him steady work, compensating him liberally, and as far as possible, insuring him against unemployment.

To deal fairly with the competitor by standing squarely on the broad, general principle of live and let live—by maintaining open prices and never deviating from them.

The Standard Oil Company knows that, by reason of its refining and distribution facilities, and the service it renders to customers, it has no need to disorganize the market to get its fair share of the business. That is all it expects and wants.

It is because of adherence to these general policies that the Company has prospered, and the Directors have been able to give a creditable accounting of their trusteeship to the 4623 stockholders who have their money invested in the Company.

WOMEN URGED TO PUSH VICTORY LOAN.

St. Louis, April 22.—Mrs. William F. Donovan, chairman of the Missouri Women's division of the Victory Loan Organization, has received a telegram from Mrs. William G. McAdoo, chairman of the National Women's Organization, urging the women of the United States to make the Victory Loan a success.

The telegram follows:

"The women of the United States felt a year ago no money price was too high to pay for the winning of a victorious peace. The government of the United States is now asking us to help raise the $4,500,000,000 subscription that totals the Victory Loan. Can we do less than our best to pay the price for peace?"

COURT ORDER RESTRICTS MISSOURI MAYOR.

Clayton, April 22.—Circuit Judge Wurdemann has granted an order forbidding Michael Weil, wealthy innkeeper, and "Mayor" of Festus, Mo., from disposing of his property.

This action was brought by his wife, Mrs. Agnes Weil, who charged that her husband wanted to sell their property and return to Germany.

In granting the request, Judge Wurdemann, declared there was no danger of Weil going back to Germany now unless he entered into competition with the aviators who are trying for a transatlantic trip in aeroplanes.

Have You Any Tires Like This?

If your tires are worn like the one shown here, you still have about one-half the value of a new tire in this old carcass.

You have only used the tread on this tire. The rims, side walls and fabric are still perfectly good and with proper rebuilding your tire can be made as good as new.

In rebuilding we replace all worn plys of fabric and add one ply more than was in the tire when new —then after the carcass is completely rebuilt we apply the new tread.

And rebuilding costs you only about one-half as much as a new tire.

We guarantee 3000 miles of service from our rebuilt tires, Standard Guarantee.
